With vast experience in notarisation, legalisation and translation of a wide range of documents, it's no surprise that we're the notaries of choice for many leading fashion houses.

PROTECTING YOUR BRAND

When the iconic fashion brand Jimmy Choo needs to get litigation underway to protect its valuable trademarks, Vanner Perez is the firm of notaries it trusts with its international reputation.

We can help you with trademark registration, litigation and renewal in all of the markets you operate in – as well as the ones you don't. With us, you can be sure your brand is protected.

GROWING YOUR BRAND

Running a global brand is a complex business. Establishing and managing a network of overseas subsidiaries and branch offices is much simpler with an expert notarisation partner.

Whether you're dealing with VAT in Italy, appointing directors across three different continents or signing a new lease in Los Angeles, our professional notaries can handle your notarisation and legalisation needs.

Vanner Perez has continually provided complex international documentation at extremely competitive prices, delivered in good time.
